

Juror # 11

Pardon. This fighting. This is not why we are here, to fight. We have a responsibility.

This, I have always thought, is a remarkable thing about democracy. That we are, uh, what is the word? Notified. That we are notified by mail to come down to this place and decide on the guilt or innocence of a man we have never heard of before.

We have nothing to gain or lose by our verdict. This is one of the reasons we are strong. We should not make it a personal thing.

Now, in discussing such a thing as the murder potential we should remember that many of us are capable of committing murder. But few of us do. We impose controls upon ourselves to prevent it. The most these psychiatric tests can accomplish along these lines is this: They can tell us that someday a particular person may commit a murder. That's all. They prove nothing.
